Johnson--Whaley

Miss Hallie E. Johnson and Mr. C. H. Whaley were quietly married last night at 9:30, at the home of the bride's father, Wm. Johnson, of this city. Rev. H. D. Smith officiated.

Miss Johnson is a pretty and attractive girl and very popular with a large circle of friends.

Mr. Whaley is a traveling man and popular with the business men of Hopkinsville. He is business Mgr. for the firm of Whaley and Tobin, wholesale confectionery dealers. Mr. Whaley and his bride left soon after the ceremonies for points in Wisconsin, where they will spend their honeymoon. Mr. Whaley has not yet decided where they will reside, as he is on the road continuously as salesman.

An infant of William Heath, of near Julien, died Monday.

The second day of the State Convention of the Christian Church, was devoted principally to the meeting of the Women's Christian Board of Missions. Mrs. Ida W. Harrison, of Lexington, State president, presided. The morning session opened with a Bible study, conducted by the Rev. S. M. Bernard, of Madisonville. This was followed by the State president's annual address, outlining in brief the proposed work of this organization for the coming year. Next came a report of State Secretary, Mrs. S. K. Yancey, of Lexington, showing a gratifying increase in membership and splendid work all over the State. The organization is largely increasing in membership each year. The report of Mrs. O. L. Bradley, of Lexington, State treasurer, was read and adopted. This was followed by a report of the Centennial Committee, through their chairman, Miss Sallie Ashbrook, of Cynthiana.

The chief address of the morning session was made by Prof. C. T. Paul, of Hiram College, O., his subject being, "The Awakening of China." Prof. Paul teaches the largest Bible mission study class in the world.

The afternoon session will consist mainly of reports of the various committees, also the annual report of Mrs. S. Walderly, of Danville, State Superintendent of young people's work in the State. Short addresses were also made on school work being done by this body in the Kentucky mountains by Prof. F. C. Button, of Morehead Normal Academy and H. J. Derthick, of Hazel Green Academy.

A touching memorial service for dead members was conducted by Mrs. Robert McRoberts.

The chief address at Tuesday night's session was delivered by Mrs. E. Siler, of Porto Rico, on her missionary experience on that island.

WEDNESDAY.

Yesterday morning the 68th annual meeting of the Kentucky Christian Missionary Convention was called to order by President C. E. Morgan, of Paris.

After a short devotional service, President J. W. McGarvey, of the College of the Bible, Lexington, gave a Bible reading on "Missions and Acts." This was followed by the annual address of President Morgan, after which he announced the various committees of the convention.

State Evangelist W. H. Elliott, of Sulphur, then read the annual reports of the State Board of Missions and the Treasurer, showing a very gratifying increase in all lines of work done during the past year, and reported the sum of more than $80,000 raised during the year for organized missionary work.

A short time was then taken up in the introduction to the convention of fraternal delegates and the local pastors.

Rev. H. C. Kendrick, of Georgetown, followed with an able address on "Our New Kentucky Home." The chief address of the morning session was made by A. McLean, President of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, his subject being Foreign Missions. The afternoon session was taken up nearly altogether with reports of various committees and discussions of same.

Educational matters were discussed last night, with Rev. W. M. Briney, of Louisville, as the presiding officer. Prof. W. C. Morro, of Lexington, delivered an address on the "Ministerial Supply for Kentucky," and President R. H. Crossfield, of Transylvania University, spoke on "The Education of a Christian."

The entire session of today will be taken up in the work of the Bible School Association. Many of the most prominent men present are on the program. Dr. E. L. Powell, of Louisville, will discuss "Our Centennial Enterprise." Dr. Powell formerly preached here and is one of the ablest men in his denomination.

THIEVES COME WITH CIRCUS

Five Burglaries Reported in Residence Section On Monday.

RAIDED FOR MONEY.

Jewelry Losses Run Up Into The Hundreds of Dollars.

No less than five robberies by thieves who traveled with Robinson's circus have come to light. Mention was made Tuesday of the robbery of Mrs. Max Meyer of about $75 in money and jewelry to the value of several hundred dollars.

Mr. Luther Haydon's home was entered the same day and $50 in money and a watch and several rings stolen, worth perhaps $75 or $100. Mrs. Cate, a neighbor, saw a young man with a dark suit of clothes and a straw hat with black band, go in the yard. He was about 24 years old and had dark hair and a beardless face and was of medium size. The same man was heard of at other places, notably at Mr. H. M. Frankel's. Mr. Frankel's home was ransacked and valuables removed and drawers carefully closed again. The losses there were not discovered until night. He lost $30 in money and $300 worth of jewelry belonging to his wife and Sam Frankel.

Dr. R. L. Woodard's house was also entered and $8 taken and the thief went into the dining room and ate a lunch. A big negro was seen to pass from Dr. Woodard's premises across Dr. J. B. Jackson's yard into Main street, which is the only clue.

Further up Virginia street Chas. L. Daniel's house was entered and $10 in money taken. A young white man answering the description of the one seen at Mr. Haydon's was also seen to ring the door bells at other places and would ask some question if the bell was answered.

The thieves were undoubtedly following the show, as the plan was to rob houses where all the family were absent at the show or seeing the parade.

One or two attempts were made early in the evening. One of the neighbors hallowed at a strange man who was on the premises of James Ricketts, on the West side, and the man took to his heels.

Small Blaze.

Monroe Bullard's residence on South Virginia Street caught on fire in the roof yesterday, and an alarm was turned in, but the family put out the fire before the Department could reach the scene.
